21 Plaintiff(s) David Davis and Page Gearhart-Davis Request for Discovery to 22 Begin for the convenience of the parties in the interest of justice pursuant 23 to the provisions in Federal Rule Civil Procedure 26(d). Document Production
24 is relevant to the claim and reasonably calculated to lead to admissible
25 evidence under the Federal Rules of Civil Procedure 26(b). Plaintiff(s)
 David Davis and Page Gearhart-Davis' Request for Document Production was

1 served upon Defendant(s) Clearlake Police Departments' council, Low, Ball &
2 Lynch on December 11, 2007 giving Defendant(s) reasonable time as stated in 3 Federal Rules Civil Procedure 34(b) to respond.

4 Upon Plaintiff(s) review of the electronic recording used on December 14,
5 2006 in the Superior Court of California, County of Lake, regarding Case
6 TR093498 it was obvious that the testimony given in open court had been 7 completely altered; violation of California Penal Code Section 470(c).
8 Plaintiff(s) had a Recording Engineer examine the tape whom verified this 9 (Exhibit Q & R). Plaintiff(s) feel that this Motion should be granted due to 10 previous tampering and altering of other audio and video pertaining to 11 Plaintiff(s). This case is scheduled to be heard at an Early Neutral
12 Evaluation in March 2008 in which the Plaintiff(s) want to be able to present
13 the documents requested along with this audiotape (Exhibit Q) and letter
14 (Exhibit R). If this audiotape is exposed at the ENE it leaves the 15 Defendant(s) with room and time to invest in a better quality of tampered
16 audio and video that could not be detected.

17
18 Dated this 18th day of January, 2008

Respectfully Submitted,

After studying the audio excerpt in Protocols (a digital audio workstation) it appears that this copy has likely been edited from the original. In one spot in particular it is evident that there was what we in the audio industry call a 'punch' in. A punch in is when the tape is rewound to a desired point and while playing or stopped, recording is engaged and the erase and record heads make contact to the tape simultaneously erasing what was on the tape and recording the audio input. The specific spot at which this happens is called a 'punch'.

located at the word "apparently" the "ly" portion of the word is clearly missing in and cut off sounding. The visual waveform representation in protocols confirms this. Approximately 2 sec earlier in the recording there is a word that has a similar but less apparent anomaly. The person says "officer you issued th....". The word after 'issued' seems to be cut off as well. Based on my experience as a professional recording engineer I would deem these 2 spots as possible punch points.
